Preamble

Each One Teach One is an activity organized by the Department of Engineering and Management to extend community development in the nearby vicinity. It is a motivational social concept for the educated class to understand their moral and social responsibility of teaching at least one person that will make a big difference in society.

Report

Under the aegis of IQAC, the Department of Engineering & Management Studies in collaboration with Namma Bhoomi NGO organized an activity named 'Each One Teach One from 24 December 2021 to 3 March 2022. In consultation with Namma Bhoomi NGO, our students visited the tents, roadside, or construction worker's children on a rotational basis to help them in scoring good marks in the SSLC examination. Our students used interesting and interactive methods like showing educational videos, and playing games related to the curriculum were undertaken to cheer the session.

Objectives:

This session helped the lower-class children of the society. The slow learners are identified in society and helped to improve their performance in the SSLC term-end examination. The objectives of the program are as follows:

1. To make a positive difference in society and contribute its share towards the social cause & betterment of society.
2. To extend the educational support to the bottom of the society.
3. To improve the performance of slow learners.

Outcome of the program:

1. Students provided a deeper understanding of the subject knowledge.
2. Many of the students scored a good percentage in the SSLC term-end examination.
3. It encouraged them to go for further studies.
