PREAMBLE

The National Service Scheme (NSS) unit of Moodlakatte Institute of Technology (MIT), Kundapura, organized a successful "Spic and Span Campus" drive on September 20, 2019. This initiative aimed to promote cleanliness and environmental awareness within the institute and surrounding areas.

REPORT

MIT Kundapura organized a “SPIC AND SPAN CAMPUS PROGRAM” To Inculcate a sense of responsibility for maintaining a clean and healthy campus environment among students, faculty, and staff. Raise awareness about the importance of waste management and proper disposal practices. Promote environmental stewardship and sustainability practices within the institute.

PARTICIPANTS

- NSS volunteers (students)
- Faculty members
- Staff members
- Supporting administrative personnel

ACTIVITIES CONDUCTED

- Cleaning Campaign: NSS volunteers spearheaded a cleaning campaign across the entire MIT campus. This included classrooms, laboratories, libraries, common areas, hostels, and the surrounding grounds. Participants actively collected litter, swept floors, removed cobwebs, and ensured overall cleanliness
- Waste Segregation and Disposal: A crucial aspect of the drive was waste segregation. NSS volunteers set up designated bins for different waste categories, such as paper, plastic, metal, and organic waste. They educated participants on proper waste segregation practices and ensured responsible disposal through designated channels
- Awareness Campaign: Throughout the drive, NSS volunteers actively interacted with students, faculty, and staff, spreading awareness about the significance of cleanliness and environmental protection. They distributed informative pamphlets and posters highlighting the benefits of waste management, proper sanitation practices, and sustainable living

IMPACT AND OUTCOMES:

1. Enhanced Cleanliness: The collective effort resulted in a noticeably cleaner and more hygienic campus environment. Classrooms, common areas, and hostels became more conducive to learning and living.
2. Waste Management Awareness: The drive successfully promoted awareness about waste segregation and responsible disposal practices. Participants gained valuable knowledge about the impact of waste on the environment and the importance of sustainable waste management solutions.

3. Environmental Stewardship: The tree plantation activity contributed to a greener campus environment and fostered a sense of environmental responsibility among participants.
4. Community Spirit: The drive fostered a spirit of community and collaboration among students, faculty, staff, and administrative personnel. Working together towards a common goal strengthened the sense of belonging and collective responsibility for the institute's well-being.

FEEDBACK

The Spic and Span Campus drive organized by the NSS unit of MIT, Kundapura, was a resounding success. Many students appreciate the cleaner classrooms, hallways, and common areas. It creates a more pleasant and hygienic learning environment. The program has raised awareness about the importance of cleanliness and taking responsibility for our surroundings. Seeing a well-maintained campus fosters a sense of pride among students and encourages them to contribute to keeping it clean. If the program focused on waste reduction, students might appreciate the positive impact on the environment.
