PREAMBLE

The National Service Scheme (NSS) unit of the Moodlakatte Institute of Technology (MIT) Kundapura organized a commendable 'One Student One Tree' campaign as a part of the Vanamotsava celebration on August 14, 2019. This initiative was undertaken with the objective of promoting environmental sustainability and encouraging the active participation of students in preserving nature.

REPORT

The campaign began with an inaugural address by Mr. Siddarth Shetty, who highlighted the significance of environmental conservation and the crucial role that young people play in this effort. He commended the NSS unit for their initiative and stressed the importance of individual contributions to collective environmental goals.

Ms. Sangeeta Shetty, in her address, shared her experiences and insights as a Deputy Range Forest Officer. She spoke about the challenges and rewards of forestry work and the importance of each tree in maintaining ecological balance. Her speech was both motivational and educational, inspiring students to actively participate in environmental conservation efforts.

Dr. Kataiah and Prof. Balanageshwara emphasized the academic and practical benefits of the campaign. They highlighted how such initiatives align with the broader educational objectives of MIT, fostering a holistic approach to learning that includes social responsibility and environmental awareness.

Each student was provided with a sapling to plant, along with guidance on how to care for the young trees. Faculty members and resource persons moved among the students, offering advice and assistance. This interactive session not only educated the students on the practical aspects of tree planting but also strengthened their resolve to contribute positively to the environment.
